FBI Joins Hunt; Officers Check Scores Of Tips

HAMDEN, Conn., Sept. 2 (AP) — The FBI today officially joined local and state police and hundreds of volunteers in the search for kidnaped 6-week old Cynthia Ruotolo.

Promptly at 2 p.m., 24 hours after the baby was snatched yesterday from her carriage in the lobby of a crowded department store where her mother was shopping, Connecticut FBI Chief Joseph J. Casper said:

"The FBI has now actively entered the case. It's full resources have been made available to effect a solution of the case."

This was in keeping with a new federal law permitting the FBI to enter a kidnapping case in 24 hours instead of a week.

Officials "Stymied"

But as time passed with no new clues, top officials in charge of the case reluctantly admitted being "stymied but not discouraged."

In an intermittent drizzle, searchers watched local churches this morning for brown-haired Cynthia but the baby did not turn up.

The churches had been left open in the hope the baby would be left at one of them.

Police in Hamden and New Haven checked scores of reports, among them that some baby's clothing had been found near the kidnap scene.

But Police Chief Harry Barrows reported: "We haven't anything yet."

Cynthia's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ruotolo, went to Mass as usual at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Roman Catholic church. They looked tired, as though they hadn't slept last night.

Parents' Pleas Broadcast

They said they had nothing to add to what they've already said. This was a series of dramatic pleas, made over radio and television last night, to the kidnaper to return their baby. Their pleas were being broadcast today at frequent intervals.

While some 800 searchers moved into the area from where Cynthia was snatched, as a nearby church organ sounded "Onward Christian Soldiers," police checked one tip after another without success.

At Least 112 Die In Indian Train Wreck

BOMBAY, India, Sept. 2 (AP) — The engine and two passenger cars of a train crashed through a bridge in inky darkness early today and plunged into a flooded river. Officials estimated 112 passengers lost their lives.

Officials said the death toll may even go higher from this second rail disaster to hit Hyderabad state in South Central India in two years.

The crash occurred soon after midnight on a single span 120-foot bridge five miles from Mahabubnagar, 55 miles southwest of the capital city of Hyderabad.

Passengers were hurled from sleep to sudden death as the engine crashed through the apparently flood-weakened structure, carrying two passenger cars with it. Only 22 passengers in the two cars and the train crew escaped alive, officials said. All were injured.

A third car, carrying second and third class passengers, and a postal coach with mail sorters, hung precariously on the broken bridge. The terrified passengers and mail workers made their way to safety as the black flood waters swirled below. All the mail was lost.

Two Jet Pilots Killed

TOKYO, Sept. 3 (Monday) (INS) — The U. S. Air Force said today two pilots were killed Sunday night when their F-86 Sabre jets crashed approximately two miles south of Chitose Air Base in Northern Japan.

Aid For Those Seeking Jobs Urged By Ike

President Declares Government Must Perfect Its System

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP) — President Eisenhower said tonight the government "must seek to perfect its ways of helping people find jobs and providing security for those who are unemployed through no fault of their own."

In a Labor Day statement, Eisenhower said that though more than 66 million persons are employed, "there are still those who seek a job and cannot find one."

As long as this condition exists, he added, the government must try to help.

"We are a nation blessed with freedom and proud of our democracy, and we have advanced toward equality of economic and employment opportunities, but this task is not complete," he said. "There is more for all of us to do."

Ike Bypasses Politics

Eisenhower made no specific political references in his message on the eve of the national holiday. Politics was the keynote, however, of Labor Day statements by Sens. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and Bender (R-Ohio).

Kefauver, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, said the November election "will determine whether this nation remains stalled on dead center under a special interest administration."

He added: "The American wage earner well knows that this country can never realize its full potential unless all Americans are given an equal opportunity to share in its vast promise."

Bender Sees Labor For GOP

"Today, as labor consolidates the merger of its two great standard bearers, the AFL and the CIO, the American worker's greatest challenge lies in the period immediately ahead."

Taking an opposite view, Bender said the Democratic presidential candidate, Adlai Stevenson, "will find it impossible to sell American labor the idea that it has been given anything but good times by the Eisenhower administration."

The Ohio senator, who is seeking re-election, predicted the Republicans will poll a majority of union member votes in the November election.

The broadcast went on to claim that the attack was "entirely justified" because the Communists thought the plane—on a routine U.S. Navy patrol—was a Chinese Nationalist warplane.

Two days ago the U.S. State and Defense departments announced they were demanding damages for the loss of life and for the plane. They said it was well off shore and over international waters. They asserted an unjustified attack was made without warning.

The responsibility for this loss of life and destruction of U.S. property lies with the Communist Chinese regime," the United States said.

The Peiping statement said the American demand for compensation "was quite unjustified."

"The Chinese government," it said, "considers that the charges made by the United States is unacceptable and its demand is groundless."

Helicopter Record

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 2 (AP) — A 6-man team of Army helicopter pilots set a new world's record for flight endurance today and showed no signs of weakening in plans to keep the whirlybird in the air until the National Aircraft Show closes tomorrow.

Meany Says Russia Using Nasser To Fan War Fires

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany said today Russia is using the Suez Canal crisis to "fan the flames of war."

He wrote Secretary of State Dulles that "American labor is deeply concerned with the explosive situation."

Meany made public a letter to Dulles outlining AFL-CIO views on settling Middle East problems. In it he noted impending negotiations on the canal with Egyptian President Nasser — talks which Russia will boycott—and said:

"Obviously Moscow is using Nasser as a bellow for fanning the flames of war throughout the Arab world."

Expressing confidence that the problem can be "settled peacefully and with justice to all," Meany sent Dulles a copy of Middle East proposals adopted last week by the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

It recommended that a special Egyptian Suez authority be established and charged with operating the canal, which Egypt nationalized on July 26, "in line with the present solemn international commitments already undertaken by the government of Egypt."

Working with such a group would be an international Suez authority, representing principal users of the canal.

Any arguments between the two would go to the World Court for a binding decision.

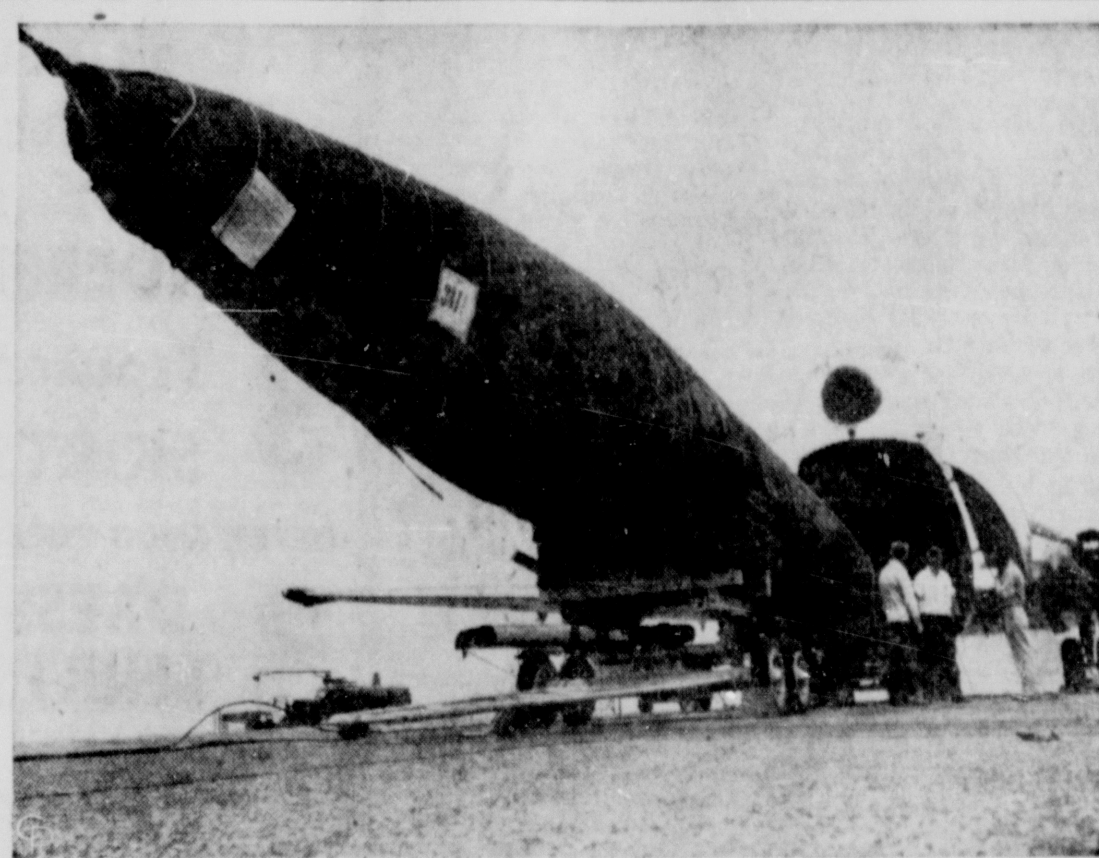

The union council also recommended renewed efforts by free nations to develop the economy of Egypt and the Middle East, including aid in constructing the proposed Aswan Dam in Egypt.

"Snark" Flown To Launching Site

Bomb Shatters British Printing Plant On Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Sept. 2 (AP) — A time bomb wrecked the British colonial government's printing plant today. It was the second such strike against British installations in 24 hours.

The bomb exploded in the press room, blew off the roof and set fire to the closely guarded building from which British authorities have issued their official documents and waged a pamphlet war against the Cypriot union-with-Greece movement.

Windows in nearby buildings shattered and the explosion jarred the center of this capital city. The plant was unoccupied at the time and no one was reported injured.

EOKA Blamed

Like the time bombing of the Episkopi cantonment of Britain's joint Middle East headquarters yesterday, the blast was blamed by the British on the EOKA underground fighting to end British rule and link this strategic Mediterranean island with Greece.

The printing plant is inside the government secretariat compound surrounded by barred wire and guarded by armed police. There is only one entrance and everyone entering is searched.

In other violence a Cypriot police sergeant was shot dead as he rode a bicycle to work at his station in Trinomo, a village 30 miles east of Nicosia.

Bishop Denies Reports

Another development was a denial by the only free bishop of the Greek Orthodox Church on Cyprus of British press reports that he is prepared to enter into negotiations with the British over the island's future.

The denial came in New York cables to two Greek Cypriot newspapers from Bishop Fotios of Paphos, who has been away since February and is at present in the United States.

$12,600 Found Hidden In Dead Man's Room

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2 (AP) — Police have padlocked the room of a dead meat cutter here after a preliminary search revealed $12,600 in cash secreted there along with a collection of 237 knives.

The meat cutter, Stephen Pilevich, lived in a $15-a-month rooming house in the Germantown section of the city. He had no electricity and a pot-bellied stove was his only heat. After he died on Aug. 4 no relatives could be found. Finally the state appointed an administrator.

Last week officials went into the room to sort his effects. They found two worn suits packed with money and a $10 gold piece. A further search revealed the mattress was stuffed with $2,000 in cash; a secret ledge under the table gave up $1,400; buried under kindling wood in a box by the stove was $2,900. The search will be continued Tuesday.

Pineau Says Egypt's President 'Dictator'

ST. GEORGES DE LA COUEE, France, Sept. 2 (AP) — French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau charged today that President Nasser of Egypt is a dictator whose inclinations are as dangerous as Hitler's.

He asked, "Is it not our duty to stop him at once?"

Pineau, in a major address on the Suez Canal crisis, defended the French-British military buildup.

Following Nasser's seizure of the waterway July 26, and declared: "If we say 'no' to Nasser—with a very clear will to use force if necessary, that would be still better than the international situation into which our shilly-shallying would lead us—a situation which would perhaps constitute a more formidable menace to peace."

Pineau spoke at a farm fair as a committee of five was flying to Cairo to hand Nasser the recommendations of the London Suez Conference for international control of the vital waterway.

He said he was certain Nasser would agree to the London conference recommendations if he knew he could not count on Soviet aid. The foreign minister said he wished that Russia "would not persevere in her advice to Nasser—advice which encourages him to refuse to deal on the only possible basis."

Harking back to the period before World War II, Pineau said that if Hitler had been stopped in 1936 when he occupied the Rhineland "20 million deaths would have been avoided between 1939 and 1945."

The French foreign minister accused Nasser of bad faith in his dealings with Pineau over the 22-month-old Algerian nationalist rebellion. When he visited Nasser in Cairo last March, Pineau said, Nasser gave him "word of honor" that no Algerian agitator was being trained in Egyptian camps.

"This assurance was revealed to be inexact," Pineau said, adding "it is no longer possible for us today to keep our confidence in Col. Nasser."

McKeldin Heads GOP Nationalities Division

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP) — The Republican National Committee today announced the appointment of Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, the son of a German immigrant laborer, to be chairman of its Nationalities Division.

Party Chairman Leonard Hall coupled this announcement with an appeal to all nationality groups to identify themselves with the GOP.

"As a party of all the people," Hall said in a statement, "the Republican party invites all Americans of various national origins making up our great nation to participate actively in political affairs."

McKeldin made the nominating speech for President Eisenhower in 1952 and seconded his 1956 nomination.

Troops, Tanks Guard Against New Outbreaks

CLINTON, Tenn., Sept. 2 (AP) — Two battalions of Tennessee National Guardsmen in full battle gear rolled into Clinton today to keep order in this small east state town which has become a focal point of Southern resistance to school integration.

The troops, 600 strong, took over from 100 highway patrolmen and half that number of local police and hastily organized vigilantes who held off an unruly mob last night in a tear-gas prompted climax to a week of snarling, hooting anti-integration disorders.

In contrast to the tumultuous situation last night when the highway patrol dashed in with their cruiser sirens screaming, the vanguard of guardsmen arrived in mid-morning with Sunday quiet prevailing.

The patrol moved in and the guardsmen began mobilizing during the night in swift response to Gov. Frank Clement's order late yesterday to put down the disturbances blamed by Clement on "out-of-state agitators."

Crowd Of 1,500 Disperses

The governor acted at the urgent plea of Clinton and Anderson County officials. They had feared a giant rally scheduled by anti-integration organizations might result in renewals of riots which had torn Clinton since its high school was integrated last Monday.

As it turned out, the Saturday night crowd, which grew to about 1,500 in the face of tear gas bombs, finally was quieted by the exhortations of segregation leaders using a sound truck. It dispersed quietly at the approach of a thunderstorm. The storm itself barely wet the ground.

Before calling off the main part of the meeting, the segregation leaders—Jack Kershaw of Nashville and Arthur A. Canada of Chattanooga—actually opened the rally they had planned.

After a prayer and a few opening remarks by Kershaw and Canada, the crowd shouted through several resolutions, including one deploring violence.

10 Tanks Move In

But the main speaker, Criminal Court Judge Raulston Schoolfield of Chattanooga, never got to the sound truck microphone. Schoolfield was an unsuccessful candidate for governor on an anti-integration platform in 1954.

First the rally leaders announced the meeting would move to a lot outside of town, then called it off as the storm threatened.

The arriving military column today included 10 25-ton M41 tanks mounting 76 mm. guns, three armored personnel carriers and 100 other vehicles, among them jeeps, trucks and ambulances.

The main body of the long column moved straight through Clinton to the bivouac area at the fair grounds. The tanks circled the courthouse square and parked a few blocks away.

There was no demonstration on the part of spectators on streets.

400 Strikes In July

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP) — Strike activity increased throughout the nation during July, primarily as a result of the nationwide steel dispute, the Labor Department reported today.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said some 400 work stoppages began in July compared with 350 in June.

Preparations Under Way For Inaugural Ceremony

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP) — Preparations already are well under way for the big public presidential inauguration next January which Congress has virtually demanded.

Bids will be opened Tuesday for construction of a big stage on the Capitol steps on which either President Eisenhower or Adlai Stevenson, his Democratic opponent, will repeat the presidential oath.

Workmen will begin erecting the platform within two weeks.

Jan. 20 is the date set by law for a president to take office. But since it will fall on Sunday next year, the prospects are for a private oath-taking ceremony on that day to be followed on Monday by a big public show on the Capitol grounds.

Menzies Flies To Cairo Amid Storm Clouds

Russians Hit Troop Buildup, Egyptians Play Up "Spy Plot"

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 2 (AP) — Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies and his Suez committee flew to Cairo today to explain to President Nasser an 18-nation plan for international control of the Suez Canal. Menzies vowed "we will do our best" and expressed hope "reason will be seen in Egypt as we see it."

But storm clouds still hovered over prospects for a settlement growing out of the meetings to begin Monday between Nasser and the representatives of Australia, the United States, Sweden, Iran and Ethiopia.

The Moscow radio stormed anew over what it called threats of aggression against Egypt by France and Britain—a reference to military preparations in the eastern Mediterranean by those two nations.

Canal Toll System Changed

Nasser has said he will oppose any form of international control over the canal. It was disclosed his Suez Canal Authority, the body which has been running canal affairs here since the July 26 seizure by Egypt, yesterday ordered all ships using the canal to pay tolls here in currency transferable to Egyptian pounds.

Since the nationalization Egypt has permitted passage of all ships through the canal even though their owners made payment to the old Suez Canal Co. in London or Paris. Egypt holds the company is liable for ultimate payment. The new order apparently was a move by Egypt to seek to regularize payments as the basis for making claims later against shipping companies.

In Cairo, the Egyptian press gave big play to news that five more Egyptians had been arrested in connection with what the newspapers called a British-directed spy plot against Nasser's regime. Three Britons were already in jail, along with four Egyptians.

Menzies Firm On Proposals

The spy story has heightened anti-British feeling here and Cairo newspapers gave it top play, subordinating the arrival of the Menzies mission.

Menzies, selected as chairman of the committee to explain the Western proposals supported by 18 of the 22 nations at the London Suez conference, expressed both firmness of resolve and hopefulness as he left London for Cairo.

He stressed that the committee was not coming to Cairo as "messengers, handing over a piece of paper," but to discuss with Nasser all points of the 18-nation plan. Reporters asked Menzies what he would do if the mission failed.

"I am a great believer in taking one step at a time," he replied. "So long as we all understand the world is in a quite dangerous position and we are not playing some sort of game and this is tremendously serious, then we will all concentrate our minds on what we are going to do."

Nina's Airliner Seat Unclaimed

LONDON, Sept. 2 (AP) — Somebody booked a seat on a Copenhagen-bound airliner today for Nina Ponomareva, the Soviet athlete whose arrest here on a shoplifting charge caused an international incident. She never showed up to take it.

Police were there just in case she did. They want her for jumping bail after she was picked up Wednesday on complaint of a cut-rate Oxford Street store that she had taken five frilly hats worth a total of $460.

Nina is a red-haired, 168-pound discus thrower who won an Olympic gold medal in 1952. She was Nina Romaschkova then. Now 27, she is a teacher and the wife of a doctor.

The airliner, a British Viscount, was under close watch throughout its three-hour stay at the airport. It took off at 1 p.m. without Nina. The star discus thrower came to Britain with a track meet Soviet team for a 60-member British stars that was to have been held Friday and Saturday. But the Russians canceled the meet after Nina's arrest, which they called a di y pro occasion.

An official at the Soviet Embassy, asked today about Nina's whereabouts, said, "She's not here. I don't know where she is."

The search for Nina on the bail-jumping warrant, issued by a magistrate's court, apparently will go on.

Number Of U.S. Households Will Take Big Jump

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—The Census Bureau estimated today that the number of American households may increase an average of between 700,000 and a million a year for the next 20 years.

The bureau estimated that by 1960 there may be from 50 1/2 million to slightly under 52 million households compared with 47,000,000 estimated early in 1955.

By 1975 the total may be between 61 1/2 million and 67 1/2 million.

Because of the large increase in the birth rate in the late 1940s, the number of married couples is expected to increase sharply by the early 1970s when these children reach the age of marriage.

The increase in married couples averaged 291,000 a year from 1950 to 1955 despite a low birthrate in the early 1950s.

The number of births between 1945-50 was half again as large and the average annual increase in number of married couples is expected to jump to a rate between 722,000 and 875,000 a year by the early 1970s.

The bureau said a gain of from one to five per cent by 1975 in the number of women living alone or as heads of households is expected. Little change was expected in the rate for men.

Religion Today References To Deity Old Political Oratory Custom

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Politics has its own blend of piety.

As the campaign chorus swells in volume and tempo these days, you catch the religious notes woven into the variations on a vote-seeking theme.

"Many of these references undoubtedly are genuine and sincere," said the Rev. Dr. Rankin Barnes, an executive of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

"But sometimes it seems that speakers bring in the name of the Deity just to imply his blessing for whatever their position may be. This can be wrong."

It's an old custom of political oratory to allude to the Almighty, and churches encourage attention to God in all matters, including election contests, but not just as a means of popular appeal.

Censured Wrong Man

QUEBEC, Sept. 2 (AP)—Roger Carrier, a 25-year-old taxi driver, waved another car to a halt on a highway near here and—identifying himself as a detective—remanded its driver. The other driver was Detective Sgt. Albert Brouillette of Montreal. Carrier pleaded innocent to a charge of impersonating a policeman and is out on bail until trial in October.

"It's a wonderful thing when candidates call on God for guidance and assistance to do his will," said the Rev. Camillus Balzarini, of St. Sebastian's Roman Catholic Church in New York.

"But when it's done as a mere formality, to embellish a speech and give it a religious tone, that is the way of the hypocrite."

As Jesus said a long time ago, not everyone who proclaims the words, "Lord, Lord," is in the Lord's side. And even the devil can quote scripture to his own ends by false applications.

When phrases are used to suggest that divine providence is allied with a particular partisan cause, that's when it strikes religious leaders as presumptuous vanity.

"Unfortunately, there are far too many people in all sections of American life who use the word God in vain," said Rabbi Dr. Abraham J. Feldman, of Hartford, Conn., president of the Synagogue Council of America.

"Let us remember that God owes no denomination loyalties. He is neither Democrat nor Republican. He is neither capitalist, laborer nor farmer."

"He is the sovereign of the universe, beyond all man-made distinctions and categories, even as he is the father of all men."

But in the heat of a campaign, it occasionally sounds as if the contenders feel that theirs alone is a holy crusade. As Abraham Lincoln put it, the important objective isn't to have God on your side, but to be on his side.

Woman Entitled To Enter, Leave Her Home "In Upright Position"

CHICAGO, Sept. 2 (AP)—A judge has ruled that Mrs. Frances Andersen, 42, should be entitled to enter and leave her home "in an upright position."

For the last few months, Mrs. Andersen has been climbing through a living room window to get in and out of the house.

Her lawyer, Charles Cooley, said these tactics were necessary because Mrs. Andersen's estranged husband, Roy, 45, kept smashing the locks on the door.

As locksmith bills began piling up, Mrs. Andersen decided to place hasps and padlocks on the door to frustrate her husband's wrecking binges, the lawyer said.

But this meant that she couldn't use the door either. Thus, said Cooley, Mrs. Andersen had to enter and leave with the aid of a ladder by way of a living room window six feet off the ground.

"My client," said Cooley, "wants extended to her the right of all free-born Americans to enter their homes in an upright position—through the door."

Superior Court Judge Richard B. Austin agreed. Waiving the customary 60-day cooling off period, he permitted Mrs. Andersen to file a separate maintenance suit charging cruelty.

And he warned: "One more broken lock and I'll cite Andersen for contempt."

The couple has been married 22 years.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

Those Old Movies

We are about to be inundated with good movies on television—or at least with what once were considered good movies. They are a mighty revealing study in what has happened to show business in the last decade or so, especially since the advent of television.

I was watching "Top Hat" the other night on WOR-TV and this was a very interesting specimen indeed. Some things about this old (1935) movie, notable Irving Berlin's score and Fred Astaire's dancing, are a good many cuts above anything we are likely to see on current musicals. On the other hand, a good many other aspects—the plot, a grotesque elaboration of a misunderstanding, the dialogue ("What is this power you have over horses?"—"Horse power!"), the acting which was fairly primitive, and the direction which was intermittent—would hardly be allowed today.

I found all this surprising because I saw "Top Hat" back in 1934 and, like a lot of other people who saw it then, I considered it one of the very best movie musicals. And I guess, at the time, it was. But both the picture industry and the rest of us have gone through some strenuous times since 1933 and we have grown accustomed to something a little different.

Theoretically, our tastes are being debased by this incessant dosage of television—but are they? I think Ginger Rogers, who developed into quite an actress after this picture, would be mortified by the acting she did in this one. Also, it's been a long time since comedy lines have been delivered quite that way—registering on the straight line, rolling the eyes to the ceiling, rolling them back and then letting go with the punch line—as if we were all so slow-witted that we needed careful preparation for the jokes.

And a plot that revolved around a girl misunderstanding who lived in what room in a hotel—well, since

Rodgers and Hammerstein introduced such topics as war and death and miscegenation in "South Pacific," musicals just haven't been allowed to get away with that sort of thing.

Still, having said all that, "Top Hat" has a joyousness, a bounce that we don't manage to get into many pictures now. It was a lot of fun to watch and especially to listen to and there are not many hour-and-a-halfs of television that are.

For a good many years now, it has been assumed in intellectual circles that mass culture is a debased culture, that anything as big as television has to deal in the lowest common denominator and that consequently tastes have got to be driven down. But it hasn't worked out that way. Exposed as we are to so much acting, so much dialogue, so much drama, we demand an awful lot of it. Mass tastes in such matters may seem awfully square to the intellectuals today but by standards of 30 years ago, they're awfully hep.

Metro Goldwyn Mayer has just unboxed a whole bundle of 275 feature films for television including "Goodbye Mr. Chips," "The Thin Man," "Ninotchka," "Mutiny on the Bounty," "David Copperfield" and many, many others that were all considered great pictures in their day.

I look forward to seeing many of them—the ones I always wanted to see and didn't the ones I did see and always wanted to see again—but I'm also steeling myself to some disappointments. The magic of nostalgia will be there; the magic of some individual performances and some individual personalities like Greta Garbo and John Barrymore will be there; but a good deal of the gloss is going to vanish.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Be Graceful

Ballet is a magic word to the would-be ballerina. Mothers, proud aunts, and even grandmothers of thousands of these little girls could very profitably study dancing, too. They would have the advantages of increased grace, poise, beauty of posture, and sound symmetrical muscular development with classical ballet technique.

Grace and beauty of movement, like a foreign language, grows rusty with disuse and cannot adequately express your charms when you most want it to.

Every woman (and that includes many of my top models) who has studied ballet gives the appearance of having been endowed with some mysterious alchemy that instills her movements and gestures with miraculous grace and graciousness. Most everyone turns and watches her wherever she is, as she is a picture of grace in motion. None ever seems to feel shy or self-conscious when she enters a room full of people—the fear of many.

For increased grace, practice some of the simple steps of ballet. It will probably mold figure measurements, too, if that is needed. If you don't wish to take lessons, we have created exclusively for readers of this column a booklet that includes solo dance steps anyone can do. Called, "Dance Through a Week to Beauty," it can be ordered by writing to me, in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin.

If you're saving for peace of mind...

...where you save does make a difference

It's a good feeling to have savings for any emergency. And where you save does make a difference—as over 16 million Americans know. They're enjoying important advantages by putting their money into insured Savings and Loan Associations. Excellent returns from your money is one advantage. Another is efficient service from men who know how to make your dollars work harder for you. And, of course, your money is safe. Your savings are protected by sound management and substantial reserves. They are insured up to $10,000 by the FSLIC—an agency of the U. S. Government. These are the reasons why Americans are putting more of their savings account dollars into insured Savings and Loan Associations than anywhere else! Start enjoying these worthwhile advantages at your nearby insured Association. Drop in tomorrow.

Scottish Rite Bodies To Hold Rally At Keyser

Fourteen Degrees To Be Conferred

KEYSER — A fall Scottish Rite ceremonial and reunion will be held at the home of the Upper Potomac Shrine Club and Masonic bodies on U. S. Route 50, a few miles east of Keyser next Friday and Saturday. The Scottish Rite Bodies of the Valley of Morgantown, will come to Keyser to confer the degrees from the fourth through the eighteenth on those two days.

All Scottish Rite members from the Valley of Wheeling, of which Keyser and Piedmont are a part, have been asked to attend together with Scottish Rite members of Cumberland, Clarksburg and Charleston.

A dinner will be served in the big Upper Potomac Shrine Club and Masonic home dining room Friday, after conferring the fourth through the thirteenth degrees. Following the big part of the ceremonial early degrees and dinner, the fourteenth degree will be given. On Saturday morning, the fifteenth through the eighteenth degrees will be conferred, closing the fall ceremonial.

Mineral County Farm Women Planning Program For 1957

Clothing, Health
Are Prime Interests

KEYSER — Ten representatives of the Mineral County Farm Women's Clubs met in the Mineral County Extension office recently to discuss a program planning for the year 1957. Mrs. Jessie Lemley, Morgantown, associate state leader, home demonstration work, conducted the meeting and discussed the program.

Accomplishments of the past year in Farm Women's Club work were noted and results of the interest check sheets reported. In July, each member in Mineral County was asked to check problems of most interest to her. Those which received the most check marks, were: Care of today's fabrics and new finishes; How to be better groomed at home and away; How to make nicely finished garments with today's fabrics; How to get community action to prevent highway accidents; and how to better understand mental illness and its causes.

How to deal with mental upsets in the family; How to attain and keep normal weight; How to use correct English in daily conversations; How to have adequate and safe electric wiring; How to get more enjoyment from music; How to spend less time on routine housework; and How to grow and locate flowers to beautify the home.

The results show that the two areas in which Farm Women's Club members are primarily interested are clothing and health. Methods to be used to bring information on these subjects to the women are lessons at club meetings, project and committee work, workshops and printed material.

Present at the meeting were the following: Mrs. Kermit Martin, Mrs. J. W. Wimer, Mrs. Frank Stuckley, all of New Creek Club; Mrs. J. O. Bane, Russellville; Mrs. Eugene Shipman, Rees Mill; O. A. Harman and Mrs. Earl Harman, Waxler; Mrs. William Fundenburg, Burlington, and Mrs. Arnold Lyon and Mrs. R. S. Stimmel, Burlington.

Mrs. June Veach, home demonstration agent, was also present.

A Tribute To Labor Day!

The browny men who keep the wheels of progress going in a million plants and factories are having THEIR day today. It's Labor Day across the nation... parades and celebrations are the order everywhere. Strike up the band and get in there with your fellow workers. Don your uniforms, your badges or your special insignia to let one and all know that you are a proud member of your special organization. America proudly salutes Labor Day, cognizant of the fact that this army of workers, joining hands with management, is a production team that can whip the world now... or at any time!

One Last Fling Before Autumn

"It would come at the most pleasant time of the year, nearly midway between the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving, and would fill a wide gap in the chronology of legal holidays." Thus spake Peter J. McGuire on May 8, 1882. He was secretary of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and he was talking about the holiday which now is observed as Labor Day.

The body to which McGuire was speaking was the Central Labor Union of New York City, and what he was proposing was that a day be set aside for American labor to celebrate. The labor body agreed to the idea, also to the date suggested. It was true that in Europe the unions celebrated on May 1, but what was union labor that American labor should follow its lead?

So on September 5, 1882, 20,000 workmen paraded through the streets of New York. The idea caught on. In 1884 something called the Federation of Organized Trades and Labor Unions (it was the precursor of the American Federation of Labor) resolved that the first Monday in every September be observed as Labor Day.

When the AFL was organized in 1886, it took over the idea. In the following year four states made Labor Day a legal holiday. Other states followed, and in 1894 Congress made Labor Day a legal holiday in the District of Columbia and the federal territories.

Today Labor Day is not too much observed as an ideological occasion, but everybody seizes upon it as the occasion of a last fling before summer ends and everybody settles down for the long haul until the next holiday.

Candidates' Health

I have been reading a scientific pamphlet entitled "How Long Was Roosevelt Ill Before His Death?" written by W. G. Eliasberg, M. D., Ph. D., F.A.P.A. and H. O. Teltcher, graphodiagnostician, which means someone who relates handwriting to psychology. The article was reprinted from "Diseases of the Nervous System," which looks like an important publication.

I tried to read the pamphlet but after considerable meandering in the mazes of psychological jargon reached the inevitable conclusion that Franklin D. Roosevelt's handwriting changed as he aged, which is not astonishing. Examples are given from age 19 and ending at age 63. Apparently as Roosevelt grew older, he was more depressed and more tired. He also suffered from arteriosclerosis, which means that his brain was short of the normal quantity of oxygen—so I am informed by this pamphlet.

Let us drop the subject of Roosevelt and go to the current campaign about how long Eisenhower will live. The same question might be asked about Stevenson, Nixon, Kefauver, you and me and all the rest of mankind. The other day, a farmer up here in the Berkshires, strong and hearty, was cutting the boughs of trees when a yellow jacket bit him. This particular farmer had often been bitten by yellow jackets, bees, white-faced hornets and similar venomous creatures. I hope nobody will write me to say that these beasts do not bite but that they stab their victims like a juvenile delinquent with a switch blade. Whatever you call it, it hurts.

I was picking beans and I called to Bill to help me. I noticed that he walked very slowly, like a tired old man. In a few minutes he said that he was dizzy. Soon he had to sit down. He had to lie down. He passed out. The doctor arrived just in time with oxygen tanks. Soon the ambulance came. The fellow nearly died—it was touch and go.

Now if a yellow jacket can kill a man, anything can, I suppose. And therefore those who are speculating about life and death and who will survive and for how long, had better walk through the woods some day and see all the little things that can kill or that feel they have prior rights, as, for instance, when a woodchuck knocks down a row of broccoli or when cottontails decide that, of all things, this year they will eat flowers instead of clover. There is no telling about the animal mind and animal tastes, but it used to be believed that the Lord made everything for a reason, including poison ivy and I know of a farmer who planted some because it is good for horses, he said.

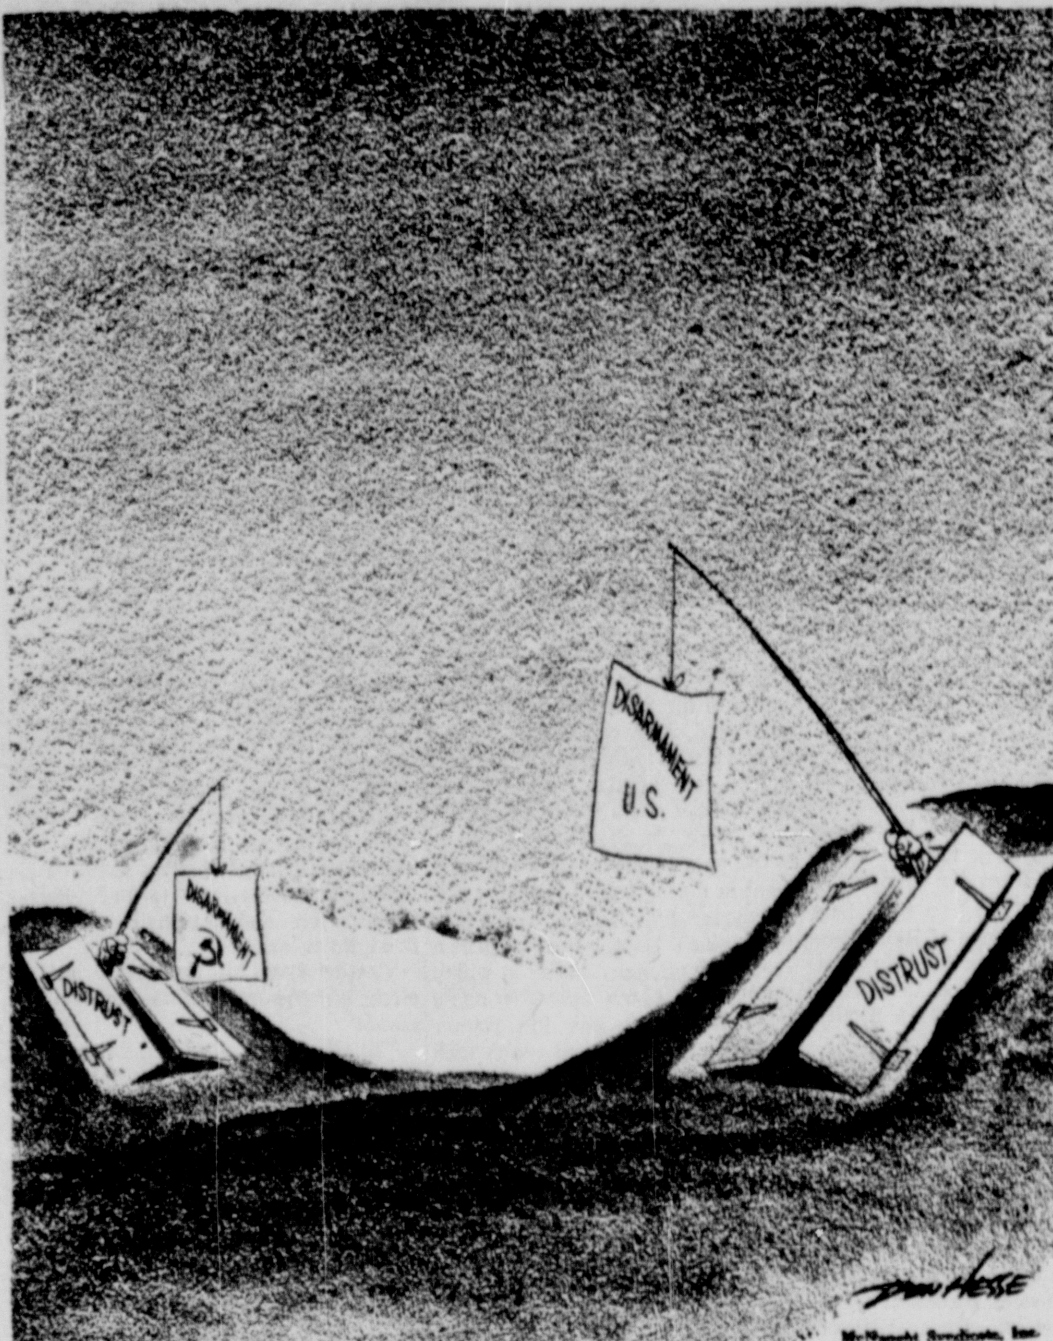

Therefore, it makes no sense to speculate about anyone's longevity, particularly during a campaign. Let the Republican and Democratic doctors fight over Ike's ileum but for the rest of us, we know that death comes its tiresome way, sooner or later, and that a century hence, nobody is really missed. I was thinking of that when young John Kennedy tried to be nominated for vice president and lost by a hair at the last moment. Obviously, at the "open convention" it was agreeable to let Kennedy make as good a showing as he could and then swing the votes to Kefauver.

And all I could think of was my old friend, Al Smith. But many of those at this Democratic Convention knew not Al Smith. He was the first Roman Catholic who ran for president and he was ploughed and now along comes John Kennedy and he has not made the grade either. But the point is that except as a footnote in American history, Al Smith is already no more remembered than Champ Clark, except in New York where a generation loved him.

Perhaps it is fortunate for the human race that we forget so easily. Otherwise, we should find ourselves looking backward to those who came before. A campaign based on speculation as to who is going to live and who is going to die is bound to be ridiculous. It is unfortunate enough that a campaign is to be fought not on issues but on personality. But when men argue as to who is to live or die, we can put it down as a fact that sooner or later, death comes to all.

Inevitable Is Happening: It's Ike To The Rescue

By Joseph Alsop

PORTLAND, Oregon — The inevitable is already happening. Among the Republican leaders here in the Northwest, the word is already spreading that President Eisenhower will take the stump after all, at least to the extent of coming to this section in order to help the two Republican senatorial candidates, Douglas McKay in Oregon and Gov. Arthur Langlie in Washington.

Behind this tentative plan, in turn, there is the usual story of the politicians on the spot for the aid of the man in the White House. McKay denies having entered any such plea; but it seems likely that other Oregon Republicans have pleaded for him, and it is pretty well known that there have been pleas from Washington. But besides these common cries of anguish and alarm from the on-the-spot, there is also something more.

Morse Formidable Fighter
Even before the Republican National Convention, trouble in the Northwest had been revealed to the White House by the revolt patronized by the Republican high command. The President himself stood high in popularity. But the Oregon and Washington Senate candidates, who almost have to win if the Republicans are to organize the Senate next year, were shown to be much less well off. A really amazing measure of ticket-splitting was indicated in Washington, favoring the Democratic incumbent senator, Warren Magnuson. And here in Oregon, Wayne Morse, the Republican-turned-Democrat whom the White House is most eager to defeat, looked to be well in the lead for the moment.

No one can tell whether Morse will retain this seeming lead, in the face of the massive effort of the newly galvanized Oregon Republican organization plus the personal intervention of the President. (Although Eisenhower also intervened here, with dismal failure, in the Senate race between Guy Cordon and Richard Neuberger in 1954.) But if you have seen Wayne Morse in action on his home grounds, as this reporter recently did, you cannot escape the conviction that he is a formidable fighter who will be hard to down.

The occasion was a picnic of the Democratic faithful of Clackamas County, in the green shade of a fir grove by Rushing Mill Creek, outside the little village of Mullino. The scene was charming. Nature had favored the place, and man had not spoiled it. Under the big trees, farm wives spread over the picnic tables a bewildering variety of jellies and pickles, breads and heartier foods. Democratic elders gossiped. Children played, got too near the creek, and were shouted for. County Chairman Richard Groener passed the happy word that Clackamas, once a solidly Republican County, would have a registered majority of 2,000 Democrats at the next voting.

Returns The Fund
Into this amiable confusion plunged Morse, in a hurry as usual, and looking as usual rather gaunt and professorial. He was greeted with warm enthusiasm; but the temperature rose by several further degrees when Chairman Groener opened the meeting. Groener and others presented close to $1,000 collected by the Clackamas Democrats for the Morse campaign fund.

Morse replied with glowing thanks, but instantly returned the fund to Chairman Groener, instructing him to "spend it as he thinks best, but for the benefit of the entire — and mind you, I say entire — Democratic ticket in Clackamas County." Thence he launched into a fighting speech for the whole party ticket, noting every local candidate almost down to dog-catcher. And then, when he Coast-to-coast polls predict no political advantage in Labor Day's road-swipes.

Half the vital percentages will be Democrats and half Republicans.

Half of them will be going west and the other half east. There are different traffic rules on the other side of the Mason-Dixon Line.

Stevenson and Kefauver got their cooperative carnival on the road a week ago. The new salesman is taking over Estes' old territory.

Things will be so jammed on the roads the proxies will think they're back in the aisles.

It's the last big outdoor stampede of the political solstices. It will be a good chance for Sam Rayburn to appoint Kefauver sergeant-at-arms in a trailer colony.

Many Cases Of Psittacosis Traced To Pigeons

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Psittacosis (parrot fever) has increased since 1951 when the government relaxed its regulations on the shipping and sale of parakeets, cockatoos, and related birds. The demand for parakeets as household pets is so great they are transported in overcrowded quarters, which helps to spread the infection. Some die en route and the survivors become healthy carriers of the infection.

This does not mean that all parakeets and cockatoos harbor the causative agents of this disease. It is unfair also to blame these pets solely, because other birds, such as pigeons, harbor the micro-organisms. Many cases have been traced to pigeons, particularly in cities whose inhabitants dote on feeding them.

These stray birds should be trapped and gassed instead of being offered peanuts.

I'm not in favor of killing pets, but until we stop importing psittacosis, we are endangering the lives of all our birds — domestic and tame.

Psittacosis was considered rare 20 years ago. In contrast, 13 victims appeared at University Hospital of Cleveland between April of 1949 and January of 1954. These patients had symptoms varying from acute bronchitis to lobar pneumonia. There were no fatalities in this group although deaths have been recorded elsewhere.

Almost all the patients had cough and fever. In addition, several suffered from chills, shortness of breath, chest pain, or muscular aching. Four coughed up blood, two developed delirium, and one became stuporous.

In this respect, psittacosis mimicked diseases like flu, infectious mononucleosis, atypical pneumonia, lung cancer and rheumatic fever. Diagnosis was made by X-rays and special complement fixation blood tests.

All but one of these victims had been exposed to parakeets or pigeons. One man had cleaned the bird cage approximately two weeks before the onset of his illness. A housewife had acquired a cockatoo six months previously and a parakeet one month before she became ill.

A 46-year-old maid was a member of a household where pigeons were raised in the basement in which she did the laundry. An elderly woman who loved to feed pigeons in her yard was admitted to the hospital with a temperature of 105 degrees, so sick she almost died.

If this experience is typical of one hospital, the same situation must exist in many others throughout the country.

The most encouraging feature of the Cleveland report was the effective results obtained with the tetracycline group of antibiotics. These products are recommended for anyone who develops symptoms resembling psittacosis where there is a history of contact with the birds.

Arrest Of Johnny Dio May Force Action Against Labor Racketeers

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's note: Drew Pearson is touring the Middle East. During his absence his column is being written by his junior partner, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — The Victor Riesel acid-blinding case may force the Justice Department to go ahead with its long-threatened crackdown on labor racketeers. This could boomerang against the Republicans, whose most potent labor support comes from the racket-tainted Teamster Union.

Johnny Dio, arrested by the FBI for allegedly ordering the acid throwing, is an underworld pal of teamsters strongman Jimmy Hoffa. Dio once got a charter from the Teamsters to organize New York City taxi drivers. He also teamed up with Hoffa in an effort to oust Martin Lacey as president of the Teamsters joint council.

Hoffa presently is leading the GOP drive inside the union. He also put up Teamster money to sponsor TV and radio programs for the Republican state convention in Michigan. Teamster front man Dave Beck was one of five labor chiefs who refused to endorse the Democratic presidential ticket at the AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting.

Both Hoffa and Dio are also close to Chicago's colorful labor racketeer, Paul "Red" Dorfman. Dorfman runs separate boys' and girls' camps in Winosha, Wis., uses them as a blind for labor officials and gangland characters to meet. Investigators recently traced two long-distance calls from Harold Krieger to mobster Abner "Longie" Zwillingman.

at Dorfman's Winosha camps. Dorfman also operates a dude ranch outside Gulfport, Miss., where he entertains celebrities and racketeers.

Hoffa's "Purple" Past

Hoffa, once linked with the Detroit "Purple Mob," has a reputation as a muscle man. One investigator's report quotes him as saying about a Jersey City waterfront mobster: "Tell that s. o. b. to straighten out. Never mind, I'll do it myself. I'm going to New York myself to do it."

Internal Revenue, unimpressed by Dave Beck's GOP leanings, is going over his back tax returns with a microscope. T-men even checked on a 1950 doctor bill that seemed exorbitant. It turned out that Beck had paid Dr. Edward McNicholas to fly with him from Philadelphia to Chicago to tend kidney stone pains.

Dr. McNicholas, now with Bethlehem Steel at Sparrows Point, Md., assured Internal Revenue that the bill was legitimate. It included his round-trip plane fare.

Secretary of Labor Jim Mitchell favors a special, high-level commission to probe labor racketeering. He has talked the idea over with Justice Department officials, will soon send formal recommendations to the White House. He wants to discuss the problem with AFL-CIO President George Meany. But no one wants to do anything until after the election.

Southern Labor Split?
AFL-CIO President George Meany's outspoken stand against segregation may precipitate a Southern revolt inside the labor movement. Before the cigar-chewing labor leader went on record, he read—and ignored—a confidential warning that "a major revolt" was brewing among Southern trade unionists.

"There is widespread talk of the formation of a Southern federation of labor based on segregation," the confidential memo reported. "Several local unions have already adopted resolutions to disaffiliate with the AFL-CIO nationally. The situation is made to order for a resourceful organizer with trade union experience to take the initiative and tie together the trade union element already represented in the fast growing White Citizens Council movement."

The memo estimated that "more than 250,000 members of unions have already been seriously affected by inroads made in organized labor by the White Citizens Councils in the states of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee, and South Carolina," and warned that "there are unlimited funds available from the Southwestern oil and other interests for a movement aimed at the destruction of labor unions."

Workers Join White Councils

The memo reported that workers in the Firestone Rubber plant, Ford assembly plant, and International Harvester Company at Memphis, Tenn., "are believed to constitute a majority of the White Citizens Councils and Pro-Southerners, Inc."

Steel workers at Fairfield, Tarrant City, and Bessemer, Ala., are "the base" of the local White Citizens Council, the confidential report added. In Montgomery County, the seven-man White Citizens executive board includes four union members.

In Tuscaloosa, the memo said, "despite denials of the rubber workers local union that their members had no part in the riot at the University of Alabama, observers who were present state that the demonstration was organized and led by union members from nearby rubber, paper, and steel plants."

Gloomy Outlook

The memo concludes gloomily: "1. Very little new organization work can be successfully undertaken in the South by the staffs of AFL-CIO... in the face of the racial crisis."

"2. The trade union movement will be set back five to ten years by this crisis. If and when an independent union movement based on segregation is launched, it will attract practically all of the white union membership. Without the leadership of the whites, the Negro members will fall away..."

"3. Some of the union leaders want to work out a method of operation which will permit them to live with the White Citizens Council movement. This would involve a public statement by the president of the AFL-CIO to the effect that there is room for dissent on the civil rights issue."

But Meany, after digesting this warning, clamped his teeth on his cigar and testified exactly the opposite at the Democratic Convention. Later he blasted both parties for "weaseling" on the civil rights issue.

Leads And Leaks

Vice President Nixon has been coying up to Secretary of Labor Mitchell. Once at odds, the two now cooperate closely inside the cabinet... Friction between the AFL and CIO hasn't been entirely eliminated by the merger... Example: AFL chief George Meany, now the combined president, denounced India's Prime Minister Nehru as pro-Communist. CIO leader Walter Reuther, No. 2 man in the new setup, made a good-will trip to India to court Nehru. (Copyright, 1956, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Toll Roads, Freeways

By Roger Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass. — The recent passage of the federal highway bill has centered a great deal of attention on toll roads and the numerous problems they face.

Competition Of Freeways
During the debate on the federal highway program, weakness began to develop in the prices of many toll road bonds. Finally, when this bill was passed, many holders of these bonds became alarmed and sold out for fear that the proposed new freeways would successfully compete with existing toll roads. Many investors felt that the government highway program would shelve practically all plans for new toll roads.

But I feel that, too much stress has been put on the probable competitive effect of freeways. Remember that state highway departments will control the expenditure of funds allotted by the federal government. In the past, states have encouraged the building of toll roads. Therefore, it seems quite certain that states would not lay out new freeway routes that would clearly divert much traffic from existing toll roads.

New Toll Road Possibilities

Fear of competition from new freeways may well be only a temporary retardant in the planning of new toll roads. This would be true if such roads considerably reduced travel time between heavily populated centers. Certainly where current studies show heavy traffic possibilities, it is likely that new toll roads will be built in the future.

But I forecast there will be fewer offerings of toll road bonds, so that eventually we may well see higher prices for good existing toll road issues. There is also the strong possibility that eventually some states may take over toll roads, issuing state bonds for existing toll road bonds, thus improving their credit position.

Risks In Toll Road Bonds

While some states have directly or indirectly guaranteed interest and principal payments on toll road bonds, most issues are secured solely by revenues collected from users. Investors should carefully check the security of issues offered them. Be especially cautious when buying bonds on projected toll roads.

Now that the federal government has agreed to furnish up to 90 percent of the cost of the construction of approved freeways, it is less likely that state legislators would promise to even partially support a new toll road. No doubt big bond houses will try to put pressure on state legislators to guarantee a portion of the cost of toll roads. But I predict that little state support will be forthcoming, except in cases where such roads can very clearly be shown to be self-supporting.

Cost A Stumbling Block

Rising interest rates and a tight money supply have also caused a price decline for outstanding toll road bonds. Furthermore, these factors add heavily to the cost of building. Existing toll roads were favored a few years ago with rising bond prices and easy money.

Besides higher interest rates, materials and wage costs have risen 70 per cent within the past few years. In 1953 and 1954 the average cost was $390,000 a mile. Now it is claimed that the cost for most toll roads is about $1,670,000 a mile. Logically this means that much higher toll rates must be charged, adding greatly to the competitive position of freeways.

Estimates In Question

The continued failure of West Virginia Turnpike revenues to come up to the estimates made when the bonds were first offered causes buyers to hesitate before committing themselves to such issues. But this and other experiences no doubt should lead to much more conservative estimates of traffic and revenues.

However, recent traffic experiences in West Virginia and Ohio, and with extensions of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, will certainly put a damper on new issues for some time. But in the long run, where existing toll roads serve a real economic need at a fair level of charges, there need be no fear of bonds based on them. In the meantime, I predict that some bargains are likely to develop in existing toll road tax-exempt revenue bonds.

Swaps And Summer Tan To Vie In $100,000 Race Today

Six May Run In Handicap At Chicago

$85,750 Purse For Winner; Shoemaker, Arcaro Will Ride

By BOB GLASS

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—(INS)—Rex Ellsworth's top attraction, Swaps, ruled an overwhelming favorite today to win Monday's 29th running of the $142,700 added Washington Park Handicap.

Only six horses were named to go postward in the one-mile event, the closing day feature at the Chicago area track. The field could be cut to five in the event the race is very fast since Hasty House farm's five-year-old colt, Seo O'Erin, prefers an off track.

Swaps, his record marred by a solid defeat in last week's Arch Ward Memorial Handicap, will be out to redeem himself in the turf world. The proud four-year-old son of Khaled, has suffered two of his three defeats the past two years on the Washington Park strip, having lost to Nashua in the special match race of a year ago plus the Arch Ward Memorial.

Carries 130 Pounds

The big brown colt will carry top impost of 130 pounds and regular rider Willie Shoemaker who was atop Swaps when he finished seventh a week ago.

A total of $85,750 has been put up as the winner's purse but only a handful of candidates will challenge Swaps' bid for the four-year-old championship honors.

The only serious threat to Swaps, which has been established as an 1 to 2 choice in the overnight line, is Mrs. John Galbreath's improving Summer Tan. The Heliopolis colt has not won in five starts this year but has finished second four times, the last three in succession.

Arcaro Will Ride

Summer Tan, which will have veteran jockey Eddie Arcaro in the saddle, will carry 115 pounds, 15 less than the favored Swaps. Summer Tan finished second behind eastern champion Dedicate in the mile and one-eighth Whitney at Saratoga two weeks ago.

This will be the second meeting between Swaps and Summer Tan. The latter finished third to Swaps in the 1955 Kentucky Derby.

Also slated to answer the starting bell are Charles Fitz, five-year-old gelding Sir Tribal, E. Gay Drake's speedy Dogoon and Walmac Farm's Chicago bred Haseyama. Sea O'Erin of course is a question mark depending on what condition the track is in.

Dick Savitt, Shirley Fry Cop Matches

Win In National Singles Tourney

By TONY GALLI

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 2.—(INS)—Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., returning to big time tennis after an absence of four years, came from behind today to gain the second round singles of the national tennis championships at Forest Hills.

The 29-year-old, eighth-seeded oil man, who practically retired after winning the Australian and Wimbledon championships in 1951, appeared on the way to an upset defeat before rallying to eliminate David Snyder of Winfield, Kans., 1-6, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

The second day of the nine-day tourney began with Wimbledon champion Shirley Fry, top-seeded in the women's division, defeating Mexico's No. 1 player, Yola Ramirez, 6-3, 6-2.

Snyder, U. of Texas teammate of Sammy Giammalva who upset Australia's Neale Fraser at Southampton recently, surprised the powerful Savitt in the first set with his accurate placements and broke service twice to win the set.

But the Rusty Savitt's overpowering service began taking its toll in the second set and won 18 of the next 20 games to clinch it, his last ten games in a row.

The powerful-stroking Savitt, who may give Uncle Sam's Davis Cup team a shot in the arm, began his comeback by scoring four service aces and forcing Snyder into 25 errors. He broke Snyder's service eight times in all.

The 29-year-old Miss Fry, a quarter-finalist last year, required 43 minutes to eliminate the 21-year-old Southern champion, ten more than second-seeded Althea Gibson needed yesterday to dust off Mrs. Nell Hopman of Australia.

Miss Fry broke through service four times in the first set and failed to hold twice as the two started out to see who could commit the most errors.

The winsome U. S. clay courts champion, who became the country's top-ranking women's player when last year's nationals queen, Doris Hart, turned professional, broke service only once in the second set but tightened up her game to score repeatedly with an effective backhand.

Wheeling To Run Ten Races Today

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 2.—Wheeling Downs officials today announced ten races will be run on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 3, starting at 2:15 EDT. A crowd of 6,000 to 8,000 is anticipated.

The holiday program will be highlighted by the $2,000 Labor Day Handicap, a mile and one-sixteenth race for three-year-olds and upward, which is expected to bring together the top distance runners on the grounds.

Poirier Faces Giovanelli In St. Nick Bout

Heavies To Meet Friday At Garden

By MURRAY ROSE

(By The Associated Press)

Four ranking heavyweights, including top man Archie Moore and undefeated Eddie Machen, are featured in this week's national boxing program.

Moore, the light heavyweight heavyweight champion and No. 1 among the big boys, picks up honeymoon expenses at Ogden, Utah, when he faces Roy Shire, the rough boxer-wrestler, in a non-title 10-round Saturday night.

Machen, undefeated, 23-year-old slugged from Redding, Calif., and ranked sixth, seeks his 17th straight victory in a return 10-round with Cuba's husky Julio Mederos at Portland, Ore., Tuesday night. Machen, boasting a 16-0 record with 13 kayos, outpointed Mederos last February.

Two other young contenders, Harold Carter, 22, Linden, N. J., and Johnny Summerlin, 24, Detroit, collide in a return 10-round at New York's Madison Square Garden Friday night (NBC-TV-Radio, 9 p.m. EST). Summerlin, ranked ninth, outpointed Carter, ranked eighth, in Detroit, May 23. Carter has a 19-2-2 record including 10 kayos. Summerlin's record is 30-5-2 with 19 kayos.

A couple of flashy foreigners, Mexico's Paul (Raton) Macias, the NBA - recognized world bantamweight champion, and Larry Bataan, former Orient featherweight King from the Philippines, meet in a non-title 10-round at Hollywood (Calif.) Legion Stadium Wednesday night (ABC-TV-radio, 9 p.m. EST). Macias' record is 22-1-0 and Bataan's 21-4-3.

Welterweights Danny Giovanelli of New York and Gene Poirier, Niagara Falls, N. Y., who fought a sensational scrap on July 23, meet in a return at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tomorrow (Monday) night (Dumont-TV 9 p.m. EST). Giovanelli, dropped in the eighth round, rallied to stop Poirier in the same round.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2 (INS) — Well, Dick is a man of his word. He says his first is "Close to the Wind," a novel by John Harris, which was bought from the galley proofs.

Don Murray, who will be the teenagers' dream as soon as "Bus plays in more theatres, is the first actor signed. While he was in Europe Dick was pretty sure that "Close to the Wind" would be his first and he contacted Pier Angeli and Anna Magnani in the hope of getting both of them. It would be no problem for Magnani if the film is made in Italy, but it may be made in Monterey.

Bob Hope certainly pulled a funny when I asked him how Jack Benny could play himself in "Beau James." "Well," said Bob, "Jack was really 39 when he appeared with the Grand Street Boys in a charitable appearance for Jimmie Walker and he is still 39, so there is no problem."

Jack, who is always accused of being the most stingy man in the world and who is just the opposite, accepts nary a nickel for his services in Bob's picture, saying it is all a gesture of friendship to Robin.

Anna Maria Alberghetti takes off for Rome today for the Dean Martin picture, "10,000 Bedrooms." She'll sing a song with Dean and she'll be gone three weeks.

"This has all been printed while you were away," she told me, "but Lillian did a mean rock 'n' roll with a youngster at an adjacent table from us."

Lillian has gone blonde and she sang all of the old favorites, including "Sing You Sinners," "Why?" and "Honey." Bobby Kroll made the excellent arrangements and she received fine support from Eddie Bergman's orchestra.

Her husband, Burt McGuire, who has lost 50 pounds, sat with us. Lillian paid tribute to Susan Hayward, who starred in "I'll Cry Tomorrow," and sang a couple of songs from the picture.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

John Huston is bedded with the flu in Epsenada.

The Johnny Meyer's syndicate deal to buy Republican has blown higher than a kite—a matter of difference of opinion on the value of the stock.

Mrs. Paul Muni, who had a slight heart attack, was well enough to join Paul in New York.

The Jean Simmons-Stewart Granger baby is due momentarily. Stewart made it here in time.

Bob Taylor and Ursula Thiess arrive home today from their Wyoming vacation in time to get Ursula's two children ready for school.

Greta Peck, at the Mocambo with rich Texan George McGee, was a good sport and got herself hypnotized by Arthur Ellen.

That's all today. See you Wednesday.

The ancient Athenians used to assign several hundred jurors to a case in order to make bribery not only expensive, but almost impossible.

Hell's canyon, on the Snake river between Oregon and Idaho, is the deepest chasm on the North America continent. It averages 5,500 feet in depth.

Two Major Units Organize For Chest Campaign

Classified Workers To Meet Tomorrow

Two major divisions are hard at work planning their part in the 1956-57 fund campaign of the Cumberland Community Chest.

They are the Women's Division and the Classified Section, two of the major units in the campaign which will get under way here on October 9.

The Central Committee of the Women's Division met Friday afternoon in the Chest office to plan its part in the campaign to raise the $437,286.68 needed to continue the work of the nine local Red Feather agencies.

Present were Miss Lillian Compton, chairman, and Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, Mrs. Allen Sell, Mrs. Harold W. Eliason and Mrs. James A. Averett.

Ask Volunteers

Miss Compton said the committee will ask for a generous response from each woman in the community, since the goal has been increased this year.

The committee, she added, is now in the process of selecting volunteer team of workers. Those willing to aid in the fund drive were asked to call the Chest office.

The Women's Division, she said, is going into the campaign confident that if each woman responds, the goal will be reached without difficulty.

The Classified organization, which will cover the city's five major industries, held team meetings last week and has called a general meeting of all of its workers tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in Central YMCA.

Leaders Named

Heading the Classified work of Edward L. Ewald and Woodward D. Pealer, both of them veteran Chest workers.

The teams will be headed by six majors, Robert E. Barnard, Winfield Adams, Henry K. Duke, J. Wallace Close, James L. Weber and Arch M. Hutcheson.

Captains, in charge of sections, include Barnard, John Geare, C. William Seasholtz, Irvin Pariser, Mrs. Simon Rosenbaum, Lawrence R. Dehn, William Walsh, Capt. Daniel Biggs, Harry I. Stegmaier, Hugh Shires, Oscar Lashley, J. H. Garland, Carl Amtower, Paul R. Fisher, Earl Grim, Kenton B. Farrell, R. W. Young and William Eisenberger.

Webb's LaVale Store Will Open Tomorrow

Webb's new shoe store in LaVale will hold its formal opening tomorrow, according to Albert D. Heacock, proprietor.

The store, which originated on North Centre Street here and later moved to 57 Baltimore Street, has been well known in the Cumberland area for several years.

Heacock has announced that the LaVale store will open Monday through Friday from 12:30 p. m. to 9 p. m., and on Saturday from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The LaVale store is located near the LaVale Rexall Drug Store and diagonally across from the new Maryland State Police barracks on U.S. Route 40. Ample parking area is provided.

Today's Sermonette

Today's sermonette is a digest of a sermon prepared by Rabbi Gabriel Maza, spiritual leader of Beth Jacob Congregation. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

By RABBI GABRIEL MAZA

In Cumberland and everywhere throughout the globe we of the Hebrew faith gather in our synagogues and temples Wednesday evening, and correspondingly geographically, to begin the celebration of the Hebrew New Year 5717. This marks, literally or figuratively, in the Jewish tradition, the five thousand, seven hundred, seven, seventh birthday of creation. We will pray to the Lord that He bless us with a new year of health and plenty, a year of world peace.

It is a 10 day commemoration, days which are called the "Ten Days of Atonement." It begins with Rosh Hashana, "the head of the year" which is celebrated by Orthodox and Conservative Jews two days and by Reform, one day. The 10th and culminating day is Yom Kippur, "The Day of Atonement"—as it is written in the third Biblical book: For on that day shall atonement be made for you, to cleanse you: from all your sins shall ye be clean before the Lord.

At our morning Rosh Hashana services, the "shofar" the ram's horn, is sounded ushering in the New Year. It proclaims that we are being judged; that the Lord is judging all existence—even the angels. As we say in the prayers of this holiday: For the hosts of the heaven are to be arraigned in judgment, for in Thine eyes even they are not free from guilt.

Therefore, well may we humans be afraid before the Lord. For we all well know that we would all

Back To School, Back To Work

Although schools don't open until Thursday, it's back to school tomorrow for teacher, Miss Grace E. Filer, principal of Mt. Royal Elementary School, starts on a bundle of work in preparation for the beginning of the new school year Tuesday. Some 16,000 youngsters are enrolled in Allegany County schools this term.

Flying Saucer Excursions?

Local Amateur Astronomers Will Get Closest Look At Mars This Friday

By F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT News Staff Writer

There isn't much chance that any light will be thrown upon the mystery of "flying saucers," or that Hollywood and mystery writers will get any more imaginative pictures of "Little Men from Mars" than have been conjured in the past, but scientists the world over are busily engaged watching Earth's big, mysterious and distant neighbor.

On September 7, a big, blazing red star will swing across the southern sky as the planet Mars, known as the "Red Planet" makes the closest approach to Earth of the middle 20th century.

Astronomers in various strategic places will turn telescopes of all sizes and kinds toward this huge member of the solar system, as it passes within close to 35 million miles.

On September 10, Mars and the Sun will reach what astronomers and other scientists call "opposition."

Frostburg Pilot Winner In 1,900-Mile Air Race

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 2 (INS)—A giant B-47 Stratojet commanded by Maj. Joseph Schreiber of Brooklyn, N. Y., set a new record today of 601.187 miles an hour in a 1,900 mile run from Kindley Air Force Base in Bermuda to Oklahoma City to win the General Electric Trophy Race.

Church Group Plans Events

The Centenary Official Board will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m., according to Louis L. Emerick, minister of Union Grove Methodist Church. The parsonage committee will meet at 2 p. m.

Other activities scheduled this week for the various churches in the charge are:

On Wednesday the Centenary commission on education will meet at 7:30 p. m., the MYF will meet at 8 p. m., and the senior choir will rehearse at 8 p. m. The Zion senior choir will practice at 7:30 p. m. and the Elliott Official Board will meet at 8 p. m.

Thursday at 7:30 p. m. the first quarterly conference will be held at Centenary Church, with Dr. Harry C. Marsh, district superintendent, presiding.

The Pleasant Grove Official Board will meet Friday at 7 p. m., and the Commission on Education will hold a meeting at 8 p. m. The Zion Woman's Society of Christian Service will hold its monthly meeting at 7:30 p. m.

The installation of MYF officers of Pleasant Grove and Elliott churches will be held at the Union Grove camp ground at 2:30 p. m.

The Strategic Air Command bomber from March Air Force Base at Riverside, Calif., edged out two other Stratojets—one of them by only seconds—to shatter the 1955 GE Stratojet record of 589.294.

Last year's race was won by Maj. Leonard Stevens of the 320th Bombardment Wing, also stationed at March Field.

Maj. Schreiber's jet made the 1,900-mile flight—first race ever run east to west against prevailing winds—in three hours, eight minutes and 43.6 seconds.

Just seconds behind was a B-47 commanded by Lt. Col. John C. Lewis of Frostburg, Md., which averaged 600.058 miles per hour, taking three hours, nine minutes and 4.9 seconds for the cross-country dash.

An aircraft commanded by Capt. C. L. Coker of Keno, Ore., was third with an average speed of 593.602 mph.

Thus all three planes entered in this year's GE Race, a feature of the National Aircraft Show being held through Monday at Oklahoma City, broke the old record.

Copilot of the winning ship was Capt. Denis O. Peterson of Grante Falls, Minn., observer was Maj. Christian J. Luecke of Fort Wayne, Ind., and crew chief was T/Sgt. James Richardson of Hollywood, Calif.

Today's event also was the first time that the trophy run ever was started from outside the continental limit of the United States.

Air Force officials said the special route was chosen to give maximum training problems to the competing crews.

Maj. Schreiber, 34, from the 29th Bomb Wing from March Air Force Base, said he had encountered head winds of about 40 mph throughout the flight and credited his plane's victory to "teamwork of the crew."

The speed run had good weather all the way and the 14-year veteran of the Air Force said his altitude ranged from 14,000 feet to 20,000 feet. He said top speed of his winning stratojet was about 620 mph.

(Lt. Col. Lewis formerly lived at Borden Mines, near Frostburg, and attended Beall High School before entering service in 1939. Later, he attended Sacramento (Calif.) College for two years. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lewis Sr., live at 147 Mechanic Street, Frostburg.)

Liederbach In Hospital For Complete Checkup

Foster Liederbach, manager of the Strand Theatre, entered Memorial Hospital Thursday for a complete checkup.

Paul Wise, Cambridge, has been assigned here as manager pending Liederbach's return to duty.

Holy Name To Meet

The Western Maryland Section of the Holy Name Society will meet Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in St. Mary's Catholic Church here.

This means both will be in line with Earth, but on opposite sides. Of the two neighbors, scientists calculate the Sun will be nearly three times as far away.

Astronomers, for several weeks, working together through the International Mars Committee are prepared to give Mars the most intensive study, with the best available instruments ever attempted.

Some observations have already been made as the planet approaches, and on June 28, Dr. Earl C. Slipher, leader of the National Geographic Society-Lowell Observatory Mars Expedition in Bloemfontein, South Africa, reported a cloud mass high in the Martian atmosphere, extending beyond the terminator, or sunset line of the planet.

Dr. Slipher has been an observer of Mars for more than half a century. He captured the cloud mass on photographs made through the 27-inch telescope of the Lamont-Hussey Observatory.

In early July, astronomers of Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Arizona, detected an unusually bright spot some 250 miles wide on the edge of the planet's south polar icecap. This spot persisted for about 10 days, but did not develop into the vast atmospheric disturbance, covering some 350,000 square miles, that a similar bright spot produced in 1922.

Dr. Albert G. Wilson, director of the Lowell Observatory and secretary of the Mars Committee states the Martian atmosphere is unusually opaque. It seems to be full of dust and smog. There is good reason to believe, he thinks, that the atmosphere will clear as the September 7 opposition date approaches.

In the meanwhile, observers are taking advantage of the murkiness to study the atmosphere of the planet as a whole. They are paying special attention to atmospheric bands similar to but much fainter than the bands or belts seen on Jupiter. Some scientists suspect that Earth also may carry such bands, but being earthbound, meteorologists and astronomers never see them.

In 1952 and 1954, science learned much about the Martian air envelope when these bands were first photographed. Dr. Seymour Hess of Florida State University has the task of correlating this data with that of the current observations for what may well be the first rounded picture of the movement of the atmosphere of Mars.

There has been difference of opinion, but some astronomers may be more in agreement, after these current vigils, on whether or not Mars is volcanic, whether it has a molten metal core like Earth's, and what kind of life, if

Sewage Plant Job Is At 88 Per Cent Mark

Blasting Slated At Evitts Creek Unit

Cumberland's $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant is 88 per cent complete, and ahead of schedule, according to Mayor Roy W. Eves. The primary treatment unit is slated to be ready for operation by next March.

There is still a lot of work to be done, since the 88 per cent figure includes not only construction and materials which have been installed but also 12 per cent in materials and equipment stored on the 10-acre plant site in South Cumberland.

Work was slowed during July. Mayor Eves said, by 22 days of rain which kept the site wet most of the time.

Lay Sewer Line

Crews of the Moyer Brothers Company got in some good licks during July on the sewer which will connect the force main from the Evitts Creek sewage pumping station with previously constructed sewers.

To lay the line, crews excavated 1,270 yards of earth and 20 yards of rock.

Progress included laying of 300 feet of 18-inch and 50 feet of 24-inch line and 60 vertical feet of manholes.

Other crews placed stone paving on 150 square yards of the levee which protects the plan from floods.

Prepare To Blast

At the site of the Evitts Creek pumping station, crews had excavated down to rock and were drilling the rock in preparation for blasting.

Walls of the Main Sewage Pumping Station were almost completed and large cast iron pipe and valves had been set in place. The roof of the center section was poured July 23, requiring 30 yards of concrete.

Good progress was made on the construction of the grit and comminutor station, the west de-gritter and the grit ejector station.

Walkway piers of the sludge beds were poured and steel frames of the covers were aligned.

Installation of electric panel boxes, conduit runs and lighting fixtures was proceeding in all of the buildings.

Cresaptown PTA Program Is Set

A committee of the Cresaptown Parent-Teacher Association has prepared the program for activities during the coming year.

The program committee, headed by Mrs. Betty Beachy, met last week to complete plans for meetings and activities.

Other members of the committee are Miss Myra Nefflen, principal, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, Mrs. Claris Myers, Mrs. Virginia Mignot, Mrs. Mary Alderton, Mrs. Ruby Adams and Mrs. Olive Lewis.

The schedule calls for meetings at 7:15 p. m. at the school on the second Thursday of each month. Activities will get under way on October 4, with Lester Sherman, president, presiding.

The session will be a get-acquainted meeting for parents and teachers.

Copies of the activities program will be distributed by the committee.

Demand For Surplus Foods Decreases

The Associated Charities last week registered 290 families for surplus foods to be distributed during October.

Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary, said the requests are down 61 from September.

Crafts Will Meet

The Building and Construction Trades Council will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple, according to Harry Hickie, president.

Labor Day Commemorative Stamp To Honor Holiday

By C. WESLEY BLACKBURN News Staff Writer

A special stamp will be placed on sale today in Camden, N. J., to commemorate Labor Day, one of America's great holidays.

Issuance of the three-cent adhesive marks the first time that the United States Post Office has issued a stamp to commemorate a legal holiday.

Labor was also honored in 1950, when a three-cent stamp was issued to mark the 100th anniversary of the birth of Samuel Gompers, first president of the American Federation of Labor.

Another holiday which has been honored in the stamp world is Arbor Day.

The Arbor Day stamp was issued April 22, 1932, to mark the 60th anniversary of the establishment of Arbor Day and the 100th anniversary of the birth of J. Sterling Morton, through whose efforts the day was first officially set aside for the planting of trees by the State of Nebraska in 1872.

Mother's Day Noted

Among other holidays listed among the United States stamps is the Mother's Day stamp issued in Washington May 2, 1934.

The stamp did not, however, commemorate the holiday as such, but was issued "In Memory and in Honor of the Mothers of America."

The Labor Day Stamp is being issued at an appropriate time, following closely after the merger of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The model of the stamp was developed from a mural in the AFL-CIO headquarters building in Washington.

The mural depicts a man, woman and child and in the lower left corner is inscribed, Labor is Life-Carlyle.

Stamps Ready Tuesday

Copies of the Labor Day commemorative will be available in other post offices throughout the nation tomorrow.

The Labor Day holiday was inaugurated December 28, 1869, by the Knights of Labor, an organization formed in Philadelphia.

The annual observance of the holiday was sponsored by the American Federation of Labor which resolved, at a convention in Chicago October 7, 1884, that the first Monday in September be set aside as a laborer's national holiday.

It became a legal holiday by an act of Congress on June 28, 1894. The act designated Labor Day as a legal holiday for federal employees and for the District of Columbia.

The First Parade

The first Labor Day parade was held in September 5, 1882, in New York City, sponsored by the Central Labor Union.

Marching in the parade were some 10,000 workers.

The prophetic messages on the placards they carried:

Less Work and More Pay
Less Hours More Pay
Labor Pays All Taxes
Labor Creates All Wealth
To the Workers Should Belong the Wealth

Chest Campaign Office To Open

The Cumberland Community Chest has moved its equipment into Room 3 of the Union Street county building, where the campaign office for the 1956-57 fund campaign will open Tuesday morning.

The drive to raise $137,286.68 to finance the work of the nine Red Feather agencies will get under way on October 9.

Between now and then, Chest workers will be busy laying the foundation for the drive, according to Lewis J. Ort, campaign chairman.

Pascola To Address Kiwanis Meeting

The Kiwanis Club, at its weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Central YMCA, will have Robert Pascola as its guest speaker.

Pascola is a counselor for boys 16 to 16 at Minnehaha Camp, W. Va.

Child Seriously Injured By Car On City Street

Police Renew Safety Plea As Three Die

A three-year old girl was injured here late yesterday afternoon when she was hit by a car near her home at 109 West Oldtown Road.

The child, Linda Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Williams, was injured at 5:20 p. m. and taken to Memorial Hospital.

Officer Carl Williams, who was investigating, said the child was hit by a car driven by Herbert C. Hyde, of 704 Patterson Avenue.

Police said the child's injuries were considered serious. The hospital listed her condition as satisfactory.

Death Toll 3

Meanwhile, police renewed their plea for highway safety after the Tri-State area started off the three traffic fatalities.

Traffic dropped off to a moderate pace yesterday and no new fatal accidents were reported. But another peak load is expected to pour onto the highways tonight as thousands of persons head homeward with the end of the holiday.

Killed in accidents Friday and Saturday were:

Harry Thomas Shryock, 10, who was struck by a car as he rode his bicycle Saturday near Oldtown.

James Kidwell, 22, of Levels, W. Va., who died when his car hit a tree Friday night near Levels.

Mrs. Frances Brandon, 58, of Lorain, Ohio, who was killed when her husband's car hit a tractor-trailer on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Bedford early Saturday.

Maryland State Police Trooper James F. Lewis said the Shryock boy was struck shortly after 5 p. m. Saturday by a car driven by Wilbur W. Largent, 54, county assessor of Morgan County, W. Va.

Trooper Lewis said the Shryock youngster was riding his bicycle and attempted to cross the highway three miles north of Oldtown into a gasoline station.

The boy had just come off a side road behind a truck when he crossed the road in front of the Largent vehicle, Trooper Lewis said. The point of impact was approximately one foot from the center of the highway.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said the youngster died of a fractured skull. He also sustained fractures of both arms and legs, and other body injuries, Dr. Deming said.

Mother Saw Tragedy

The boy was admitted to Memorial Hospital at 5:30 p. m. and died in the institution 25 minutes later. He was taken to the hospital by his grandfather, Thomas Shryock of Oldtown.

Trooper Lewis said that, besides the boy's mother, four other boys were standing in front of the gasoline station and witnessed the accident.

The victim was a student at Oldtown Elementary School.

Besides his parents, Harry M. and Mary M. Shryock, he is survived by a sister, Doris, at home; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McDonald, Rt. 4, city, the maternal grandparents; and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shryock, Oldtown.

No charges have been placed against Largent, pending further investigation of the accident.

The body is at the Hafer Funeral Home, where services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. by Rev. William Anderson, pastor of Oldtown Methodist Church. Burial will be in Davis Memorial Cemetery.

Car Strikes Tree

West Virginia State Police at Romney said Kidwell was killed instantly when his car left the Jersey Mountain Road near Levels and struck a tree Friday night.

Kidwell was the son of Lonza and Gertrude (Stockdale) Kidwell of Levels. He is also survived by a brother, Wayne B. Kidwell of Rowlesburg, and three sisters, Mrs. Helen Hill, Winchester; Mrs. Wilma Jean Ginevan, Philadelphia, and Miss Iris Lee Kidwell, at home.

Services were conducted yesterday afternoon in Levels Methodist pastor and interment was in Levels Cemetery.

Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford said Mrs. Brandon was killed when the car in which she was riding ran into the rear of a tractor-trailer on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Bedford early Saturday.

The victim was riding in the car operated by her husband, Michael R. Brandon, 37, when it ran into the rig driven by Kermit Feathers, 22, of RD 1, Imier, Pa.

Police said both vehicles were traveling east on the turnpike and Brandon apparently fell asleep.

Property Transferred

Deeds filed in Allegany County Court House record the transfer of property on Williams Street from Robert L. Jones and Elma V. Jones to Benjamin W. Flack and Frances C. Flack. Stamps on the deeds indicate the price to be about $13,000.

GOES TO SCHOOL—Evers W. Starlipper Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Evers W. Starlipper, 211 Emily Street, who enlisted in the United States Air Force at the local recruiting station in June, has completed his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas and has been assigned to attend the Jet Mechanic School at Amarillo Air Force Base in Texas. He is a graduate of Fort Hill High School where he specialized in printing and other shop courses.

Girl Posts $1,000 Bond In 1955 Highway Death

Miss Rosemary Whorton, 18, Polish Mountain, was released yesterday under $1,000 bond for grand jury action on a charge of manslaughter in the highway death of Percy Cleveland Ruby, 17, Ardenas, Pa., on New Year's day 1955.

Bond was posted before Magistrate Morris Baron in County Jail, where she was taken Saturday night after she was apprehended by Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police.

Sgt. Baker said the case developed some 20 months ago when Miss Whorton was driving the car in which the Ruby youth was killed while returning from a New Year's Eve dance.

The accident occurred as the vehicle smashed into a concrete bridge on U. S. Route 40, about 18 miles east of the city limits.

After the accident a passer-by, Floyd Whorton, Flintstone, a relative of Miss Whorton, stopped at the scene, extricated the girl and took her to Sacred Heart Hospital.

At the hospital the girl told State Police that she was driving the car, and that Ruby was a passenger. State Police returned to the scene and found Ruby's body crumpled on the floor of the car. Death was attributed to a skull fracture.

Later, during questioning by authorities, Miss Whorton said she was in a "dazed" condition when talking to police at the hospital, and stated that she was a passenger in the car and not the driver.

Sgt. Baker reported his investigation into the case has determined that the Whorton girl was driving the car at the time of the accident, and she has been charged with manslaughter.

At the time of the accident State Police said the apparent cause of the mishap was "excessive" speed, and that the accident occurred on a straight stretch of the road, known as "Mile Straight."

She will be questioned in the State's Attorney's office Sgt. Baker said.

Split-Level Creek

Crews of the E. J. Albrecht Company, Chicago, have poured the sloping walls on the west side of Wills Creek to near the Valley Street Bridge. This view of the flood control work shows water surging down the channel at a higher level to the right of the coffer dam built to protect the construction area. When the sides and bed of the stream are all paved, water will speed harmlessly toward the Potomac River during floods far greater than that which hit the city in 1936.

Deaths

Bruner, Mrs. Edith M., 80, of 705 Lincoln Street.

Raynor, Thomas P., 90, Lonaconing.

Shanholzt, Mrs. Ann M., 81, Eckhart.

Shaw, Amos E., 75, of 224 Harrison Street.
